VEGETINE
For Dropsy.

CENTRAL FALLS, R. I., Oct. 19, 1877.

DR. H. R. STEVENS:—

It is a pleasure to give my testimony for your valuable medicine. I was sick for a long time with dropsy, under the doctor's care. He said it was water between the heart and liver. I received no benefit until I commenced taking the Vegetine; in fact, I was growing worse. I have tried many remedies; they did not help me. Vegetine is the medicine for dropsy. I began to feel better after taking a few bottles. I have taken thirty bottles in all. I am perfectly well, never felt better. No one can feel more thankful than I do.

I am, dear sir, gratefully yours,
A. D. WHEELER.

VEGETINE.—When the blood becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from change of weather or of climate, want of exercise, irregular diet, or from any other cause, the Vegetine will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the stomach, regulate the bowels, and impart a tone of vigor to the whole body.

VEGETINE
For Kidney Complaint and Nervous Debility.

ISLESBORO, ME., Dec. 28, 1877.

MR. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I had had a cough, for eighteen years, when I commenced taking the Vegetine. I was very low; my system was debilitated by disease. I had the kidney complaint, and was very nervous—cough bad, lungs sore. When I had taken one bottle I found it was helping me; it has helped my cough, and it strengthens me. I am now able to do my work. Never have found anything like the Vegetine. I know it is everything it is recommended to be.

MRS. A. J. PENDLETON.

Vegetine is nourishing and strengthening; purifies the blood; regulates the bowels; quiets the nervous system; acts directly upon the secretions; and arouses the whole system to action.

VEGETINE
For Sick Headache

EVANSVILLE, IND., Jan. 1, 1878.

MR. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I have used your Vegetine for Sick Headache, and been greatly benefited thereby. I have every reason to believe it to be a good medicine.

Yours very respectfully,
MRS. JAMES CONNER,
411 Third Street.

HEADACHE.—There are various causes for headache, as derangement of the circulating system, of the digestive organs, of the nervous system, &c. Vegetine can be said to be a sure remedy for the many kinds of headache, as it acts directly upon the various causes of this complaint, Nervousness, Indigestion, Costiveness, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Biliousness, &c. Try the Vegetine. You will never regret it.

VEGETINE.
Doctor's Report.

DR. CHAS. M. DUDDENHAUSEN, Apothecary, Evansville, Ind.

The doctor writes: I have a large number of good customers who take Vegetine. They all speak well of it. I know it is a good medicine for the complaints for which it is recommended.

Dec. 27, 1877.

Vegetine is a great panacea for our aged fathers and mothers; for it gives them strength, quiets their nerves, and gives them Nature's sweet sleep.

VEGETINE
Doctor's Report.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:—

Dear Sir,—We have been selling your valuable Vegetine for three years, and we find that it gives perfect satisfaction. We believe it to be the best blood purifier now sold. Very respectfully,

DR. J. E. BROWN & CO., Druggists, Uniontown, Ky.

Vegetine has never failed to effect a cure, giving tone and strength to the system debilitated by disease.

EASTERN QUESTION

RUSSIANS PASSING THROUGH GERMANY.

THE TURKS COVERING THE BOSPHORUS.

Outbreak in Constantinople.

LONDON, May 21.

A Berlin special says, "Many pretended Russian emigrants are passing through Germany. It is believed they are seamen, disguised, on the way to America to man cruisers."

LONDON, May 21.

It is stated the Turks are taking precaution to cover the Black-Sea entrance to the Bosphorus, which has been partially menaced by recent Russian movements.

PEACE PROSPECTS.

TROUBLE IN CONSTANTINOPLE.

Russian Privateering to be Checked.

THE MISSION OF SCHOUVALOFF.

NEW YORK, May 21.

A St. Petersburg dispatch, dated the evening of the 20th says: Nothing has yet transpired here regarding the results of Schouvaloff's mission. At the palace peace is regarded certain. The last hesitations of the Emperor were overcome by a letter from Berlin counselling full concessions in view of the existence of revolutionary indications.

THE PEOPLE.

General discontent is manifesting itself among the people on the subject of the concessions said to have been made to England. Gortschakoff is almost everywhere pronounced incapable. He is blamed with all the unnecessary humiliation, and it is said that Russia has submitted to the general sympathy now centering round Ignatieff. The fact that he is in disfavor at court, renders him popular with the masses.

Russian movements before Constantinople last week came near precipitating a collision. The Russian line at one time was pushed so near the Turkish works that the latter were manned and ammunition served out, and Gen. Baker (Valentine Baker) sent an aid-de-camp to notify the Russian commander that he would fire on him if he did not withdraw. The effect has been to direct the attention of the Turks to the comparatively weak state of that portion of their line which covers the Black Sea.

REFUGEES.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 21.

Five thousand refugees assembled today and sent a deputation to the Porte asking relief, declaring their provisions have failed and sickness is increasing among them. The Porte promised that their rations henceforth should be regularly distributed.

DISTURBANCE AT THE SULTAN'S PALACE.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 21.

An official dispatch to the Turkish representatives abroad, thus describes the emeute yesterday. About thirty refugees entered the garden of the palace, inhabited by ex-Sultan Murad, and raised a shout of "Long live the Sultan." Sentinels opposed the entry of these men and were fired upon, one being killed. Troops arriving, the assailants were driven back. Some were killed and wounded on both sides. Ali Suavi, who appeared to have acted as the organizer and leader of the attack, was killed. The affair had no other consequences. Public tranquility is undisturbed.

THE BRITISH WATCHING RUSSIAN OPERATIONS IN AMERICA.

A Kiernan's dispatch says in the Commons this afternoon, Mr. Gourley propounded an inquiry as to what information the government had received relative to the reported outfitting of Russian cruisers in American waters. Attorney General Baggally said persons, said to be acting for the Russian government, had recently purchased steamships in America, but the British government, had no reason to believe these vessels were intended, in the event of war between England and Russia, to be commissioned or employed as privateers in contravention of the treaty of Paris.

RUSSIA'S PRIVATEERING SCHEME TO BE DEFEATED.

NEW YORK, May 21.

[Cable special to the Telegram.]—The British Admiralty are making extensive arrangements for the purpose of opposing Russia's scheme of establishing a fleet of cruisers to prey upon British commerce. Counter centres are to be established at Bermuda, in the Bahamas, and at Newfoundland, in the Atlantic, and at Victoria and Fiji in the Pacific. At each of these stations the fleet will consist of three turret ships and three gunboats of the heaviest armaments. Two fast, unarmored cruisers have been put in commission for special service. The Boadicea, an unarmored corvette, with a capacity of steaming fourteen knots an hour, just commissioned, will probably proceed to the Bahamas. The Admiralty have also under consideration the adoption of a patent propeller, of which marvels are related. It is claimed this invention can in a few hours be applied to any steamer and by it the swiftness of vessels will be increased one-sixth.

MOVEMENTS ON THE CIMBRIA.

Gradual Departure of the "Passengers" for New York.

ELLSWORTH, Me., May 21.

There is evidence the Russian forces on the Cimbria may soon be divided and part of them transferred. In addition to those who left last week, thirteen Russian officers, including the paymaster, left yesterday for New York and Boston. Today three Russian engineers, from the Cimbria, passed through Ellsworth on the way to New York. The officers in charge are endeavoring to arrange for the conveyance of the men to Bangor to take cars for New York.

BANGOR, Me., May 21.

Three Russian engineers from the Cimbria passed through this city tonight en route to New York.

Ship Buyer.

Another Russian naval officer in search of ships is reported to have arrived here yesterday.

Bennett's Expedition Ready to Sail.

NEW YORK, May 21.

Steamer Jeannette, formerly the yacht Pandora, took out sea letters at the Custom House, yesterday, and will soon sail for the North Pole.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE FINANCIAL BILLS IN THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 21.

The Senate Finance Committee have directed Mr. Ferry to report the House bill to stop contraction. He is also directed to call up tomorrow, to secure action in advance, the Finance Committee's compromise bill. Mr. Morrill and others claim that the passage of the Senate bill will obviate the necessity of other action. The Greenback element insist upon immediate suspension of contraction.

THE INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE.

Mr. Potter arrived today and called a meeting of his committee this afternoon. Garrison and others favor sitting with open doors. Butler and Potter will oppose this. They favor a star-chamber investigation, so that they can exercise a censorship over all information given out. The purpose of a majority of the committee is to confine themselves to facts, and make it fair and impartial without reference to individuals or parties.

BUTLER'S PLACE ON THE COMMITTEE.

A Democratic member of the Committee this morning, referring to the opposition of Republicans to the appointment of Ben. Butler on the Committee, said: "The Republicans make a mistake. Butler may give us more trouble than all the rest. He is not for the Administration, but he is for Packard, and he will try to show that Packard was elected for the benefit of the Republicans and not for us."

THE SHIELD'S MATTER.

At 1.20 o'clock this afternoon the bill to place General Shields on the retired list of the army came up in the Senate, the question being on concurring in the amendment placing General Grant on the retired list. It has been understood that Senator Conkling was to speak, and the floor and galleries of the Senate were filled with persons who expected to hear something out of the usual course. Mr. Conkling sat still, however, and did not claim the floor, much to the disappointment of the spectators.

On concurring with Grant amendment the vote was 32 yeas to 28 nays—a party vote.

THE SYDNEY MINE EXPLOSION.

Six Men Brought out Dead.

HALIFAX, N. S., May 21.

At the time of the explosion at the Old Sydney mines, this morning, there were thirty or forty men in the pit. Ten or twelve were taken out unconscious and are slowly recovering. Two dead bodies have also been taken out. Two are at the bottom of the shaft, and two more are said to be in the pit, but cannot be reached on account of the foul air. Fires have been started in the Queen pit to restore the circulation of air by passages which connect with the New Winning where the explosion took place. It is said the roof of the pit where the explosion took place has fallen in, covering some of the men.

The first to enter the mine after the explosion were three brothers named Sullivan, who succeeded in rescuing 13 of the colliers, who had been overcome by the gas. After the explosion took place, sixteen pairs of cutters were at work. There was a large number of men at work in the south side of the mine, but all escaped uninjured. One of the Sullivans was prostrated while searching for the dead, but was fortunately rescued by his brother in time to save his life. The works will be idle, it is supposed, for a few days only. Greenwell, the overseer, killed, was an Englishman, and had been at the mines for years.

"Four Walls Do Not a Prison Make."

BOSTON, May 21.

John Whelton, the convict who attempted the Warden's life four years ago, was removed to the new State Prison at Concord today, and placed in one of the "strong cells." In forty minutes he had wrenched off a window weight, and with it broke through the wall of the prison. He was captured in the yard and placed in another cell, with an officer to watch him.

Accident on the Gilbert Elevated Railroad Works.

William Berriman and Charles Kennedy were killed and J. H. Robinson had a leg broken in the Bowery today by an immense iron girder falling on them, which was being lifted into position on the Elevated Railroad.

The Moody tabernacle in Boston is being pulled down.

PERSONALS.

......Cardinal McCloskey arrived at New York yesterday, from France.

......Mrs. Leon Lewis, the novelist, died Monday, after a long and painful illness.

......Thomas R. Gould, the sculptor, has returned from Italy to Boston, and will take a studio there.

......Ole Bull, the celebrated violinist, has agreed to give thirty concerts in this country during the coming season.

......Vice President Wheeler, Mrs. Hayes and party will go into the Adirondack woods and will remain in the forests about a week.

......Right Rev. Thomas Hendricken, Bishop of the Catholic diocese of Rhode Island, sailed for Europe today in steamer Algeria. He will visit Rome and pay his respects to the new Pope.

......Mrs. Tryon, Miss Beckel, Miss Von Hillern and Miss Barnum have settled for the sketching season at St. Johnsbury, Vt. A barn has been fitted up for their studio, in which they will paint on rainy days.

......Horace Greeley once remarked that you might say good things of a public man daily for 16 years and get no thanks for it, but cap it all with a half column of criticism, and you heard from him instantly and were made to feel the weight of his displeasure.

......While General J. C. Davis was in the City of Mexico recently he bought a diamond scarf-pin that once belonged to the Emperor Maximilian. It was given by the Emperor of Austria to Maximilian, and when his death sentence was pronounced the latter gave it to a faithful Mexican adherent, who has found it necessary to dispose of it. It is a very beautiful ornament, set with eighty-five diamonds, and bearing Maximilian's monogram.

......Count Basilewski, regarded as the richest man in Russia, and who had for many years past enjoyed an income of $4,000,000 a year, died at St. Petersburg on the 4th instant at the age of ninety-two. He had passed much of his life in Paris, where he built the beautiful Hotel Basilewski, now the property of the ex-Queen Isabella of Spain. He was the father of the Princess Souvaroff, the lady who during a recent visit to this country displayed so much spirit and determination in resisting the attempt of an anonymous scoundrel to "blackmail" her by threats of making scurrilous publications about her.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The story that any bargain, real or implied, has ever been entered into between Southern democrats and Mr. Hayes we believe to be a stupid falsehood.—[Louisville Courier Journal.

Does the South want another war for the benefit of Sam Tilden, and the host of office-seekers whose only hope of feasting on official crumbs is Tilden's success? That is the question.—[Memphis (Tenn.) Avalanche.

It was a third district democrat who observed on Saturday, "Of course it's all right to investigate those scandalous doings in Florida and Louisiana, but I do wish it could have been postponed until we had re-elected Dean."—[Boston Transcript.

The people feel grateful to the administration for what it did for them, but otherwise do not admire or sympathize with it, nor do they forget that it came into office in fraud of their rights. But they have had enough of agitation and do not long to go on a wild-goose chase for the mere excitement of the thing.—[New Orleans Times.

It is evident to anybody here who has eyes to see that the southern democrats are nearly as much alarmed as the republicans are getting to be over the situation, and that many of them, for personal and private reasons, will be found as strongly opposed to any revolutionary proceedings whatever as they were in the winter of '76 when they prevented all efforts to defeat the inauguration of Mr. Hayes.—[Washington Special to Boston Herald.

Not a single Democrat on the committee can be relied upon to adopt an unprejudiced and impartial course, where the interests of his party dictate otherwise. It is said that the Democrats on the committee are unfavorable to Mr. Tilden, but this veteran politician, more adroit than ever was the wily Martin Van Buren—and with none of the principle of the latter—knows that all the fraud capital eventually goes into his pockets. The committee is made up to accord with the designs of the revolutionists. This fact has been made apparent, and therefore the danger of extreme measures is considerably diminished.—[Boston Transcript.

A curious sale took place the other day in Elizabeth, New Jersey, of an immense property known as the Dimmick estate. It consisted of houses and lots covering a considerable portion of this beautiful and lately flourishing town. Upon the estate the Third Avenue Savings Bank had a first mortgage of one hundred thousand dollars, and there were other mortgages amounting to four hundred thousand dollars. The interest upon these had not been paid for several years, which, of course, made the sum much larger. The amount which this entire property brought at the sale, subject to unpaid taxes and assessments, was thirty-seven hundred and fifty dollars. Taxes and assessments had eaten the whole estate up, and all the Third Avenue Savings Bank got out of the mortgage was one thousand dollars. Some of the lots sold as low as fifty cents each, and even that small sum was money thrown away, for the obligations due were found to more than cover the market value. A wealthy real estate owner in New York—a lady—has not received a cent of interest money for the last three years. Since last January she has paid out nearly one hundred thousand dollars in assessments and taxes, and, though a plain woman, living simply, is really troubled for means to pay her housekeeping bills. A sort of panic seems to have seized real estate owners, and they will almost give their property away to those who will undertake to pay its indebtedness. The recovery from such a state of things must necessarily be slow, and requires an amount of patience, caution and wisdom which the speculative mania since the war has not cultivated in the young or the old.—[Jennie June.

A SMART CAT.—A gentleman in Paris had a fine cat which, when it got old, fell a martyr to rheumatism, and moved its limbs so painfully and slowly that it could no longer catch a mouse. What did this intelligent pussy do? Simply this: Finding his old game played out, he got a nice piece of tallow candle and crouched down with it in his mouth near a mouse hole. So far so good, and this was intelligent enough. But he beat his own best on record. As the mice, attracted by the smell, came out, he didn't drop the candle to grab them, and so perhaps frighten them away. Not he. He just let them nibble away till their heads got right in his mouth, and then he snapped and settled them.

FASHION NOTES.

The large gipsy hat will again be popular this summer.

Black parasols lined with white or cardinal red are very stylish.

Pea-shaped pearl buttons are fashionable for breakfast sacques.

The "Wellington" is a jaunty, new, short-skirted, walking-dress.

White will be more generally worn this summer than for a long time.

A new style of bracelet is a simple wire of gold, with a medallion in the centre.

In hair dressing there is a happy departure from frizzes, bangs, curls, powder, etc. A return to sweet simplicity.

The newest trimmings for dresses are those frayed at the edges, both on the bias and straight, instead of hemmed as formerly.

The most fashionable shoe for summer will be a half-high tie, with high and narrow heel, and large buckles in front, of jet or steel.

Street garments are smaller and shorter than last year, the round cape, single, double or triple, the revived visite and a small strait mantalet taking the lead. The jacket, however, is by no means dispensed with.

As the narrowness of skirts precludes the use of a pocket on the sides, a new method in the mounting of seams allows of reaching that useful article through a slit at the back below the waist, but it is inconvenient, although well concealed.

A great deal of coquetry is now displayed in the dressing of the feet. Low shoes, Oxford ties and the like have largely taken the place of high buttoned boots, even upon the street, and the stockings are as elegant and as strictly adapted to the costume as means will allow. Fine stockings in thread and silk are delicately open-worked in straight lines, or embroidered sometimes in very striking patterns, and it is a great fashion with girls just now to embroider their own plain hosiery with the color of the dress with which it is worn, or its trimmings.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Services in memory of the late Judge Chisholm, son and daughter, murdered a year ago in Kemper county, Miss., were held on Monday in the Metropolitan District Episcopal Church. Rev. H. R. Naylor, pastor, preached a short sermon before a large congregation, Mrs. Chisholm being present, and Bishop Haven pronounced a eulogy, in the course of which he said we must defend freedom of speech and freedom of the ballot or perish from the earth. To this coming perfection of nation, peace and power, this sad event will contribute. This family group are martyrs to American equality of right, to the Declaration of Independence, and to the preamble of the constitution. It was for the cause of equal rights that the father fought and the family fell. It was for the protection of every citizen at the polls, for the true democracy, the government of the majority of the voters, legally and fearlessly expressed, for the American nation, for the rights of mankind, that this citizen of America with his brave son and braver daughter laid down their lives. Their cries of agony and death shall never be forgotten, never below, never above. "Their moans the vales redouble to the hills and they to heaven."

BUSINESS NOTICES.

OUT OF TUNE.

When the tones of a musical instrument become harsh and discordant, we say it is "out of tune." The same may be said of that far more wonderful and complicated piece of mechanism, the human structure, when it becomes disordered. Not only actual disease, but those far more common causes, overwork, mental anxiety, and fast living, may impair its vigor and activity. The best remedy for a partial collapse of the vital energies, from these as from other causes, is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which is at the same time an agreeable and mind cheering cordial, and the best possible invigorant in all cases of debility. It is an incomparable stomachic and anti-bilious medicine, eradicates fever and ague, and prevents subsequent attacks. It remedies with certainty and thoroughness bowel and kidney complaints, dyspepsia, nervousness, rheumatic troubles, and many other ailments. It also counteracts influences which predispose to disease.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 22, 1878.

THE DAY.

His Honor, Mayor Bedlow, issues an important notice in today's paper. Read and watch.

The diphtheria prevails at Portsmouth, N. H., to such an extent that the schools have been closed.

Baltimore is lamenting the alarming spread of a fatal type of cholera infantum, which is taking off babies at a terrible rate.

Bierstadt, the artist, contemplates building a fine residence on Conanicut Island. He will leave for Europe about the middle of June.

The bill to place Generals Grant and Shields on the retired list of the army was defeated in the United States senate yesterday by a vote of 30 to 31.

The completed census of Fall River makes the population 48,398. At the last previous enumeration it was 49,113 showing a large increase for a single year.

There is a movement in Fall River in favor of the stoppage of the mills on alternate weeks. In view of the fact that the market is greatly overstocked this is better than building new factories which has heretofore been all the rage.

Gov. Hampton, of South Carolina, says there shall be an honest and fair election in that State next fall no matter who goes to Congress. If his prediction proves true, the Palmetto state is about to experience a new sensation.

The subject of the metrical system of weights and measures will not be passed by at Paris the coming summer, and its advocates will hold an international convention to discuss its merits and devise measures for its adoption throughout the civilized countries. The more this topic is agitated the better, as the common people must be educated up to it or it never will become the accepted system of any country.

There seems to be an increasing excitement on the Canadian border. It is reported that the Dominion militia are prepared for the men who are supposed to be making their way secretly into the interior for the purpose of raiding on Montreal, Quebec and Ottawa. Nothing has been definitely ascertained beyond the fact that large numbers of men are scattered along the frontier under suspicious circumstances.

It is thought that the New York children's free excursions will have to be given up this summer, owing to lack of funds. On an average about twelve hundred persons have been taken on each excursion, entailing a cost of about $500, and it has been customary to give eight or ten excursions each season. The treasurer of the fund, Mr. Theodore Kitchen, has only about $300 in his hands, all of which would be required to put the grounds, at Rockdale, in proper condition and make other preliminary arrangements.

The protective tariff makes a great deal of trouble for all classes. To tax one class of people for the benefit of another is not just the thing. The importers of New York are to send a protest to the Secretary of the Treasury against the over-officiousness of the Treasury agents in that city. They complain that incompetent and irresponsible agents and detectives are continually subjecting them to great inconvenience and annoyance, which thus far they have sought in vain to remedy.

Cases of diphtheria continue frequent in Providence and nearly all the New England cities and towns. The entire immunity of our own city from sickness of this class is all the more remarkable in view of its almost universal prevalence elsewhere. Newport was never more free from sickness than at the present time. With an efficient board of health to guard against contingences, our reputation would be established beyond cavil. Let us rejoice in present blessings and do what we can for their continuance.

Bishop Gilbert Haven, one of the most genial of men, is once more attracting the attention of the funny newspaper reporters. One would suppose, from the items afloat that he went about full of wrath and denunciation toward his foes, and that he was by profession a scold. He is far from being correctly represented by the representations and living as he does in the South knows what he is talking about much better than do some of his critics. He has one habit that even bishops sometimes fail to possess—that of having opinions of his own which he is not afraid to express.

SEASONINGS.

 Mr. Carroll Livingston, of the Union Club, is still in Paris.

 The annual parade of the Coaching Club will occur next Saturday, 25th inst.

 Mr. W. W. Astor's yacht Ambassadress is out of commission and undergoing alterations.

 Mr. August Belmont's annual sale of colts and fillies takes place June 6th, at Babylon, L. I.

 Mr. Fairman Rogers brings his drag from Philadelphia, next week, to participate in the parade of the Coaching Club, at New York.

 The Union League Club has recovered judgment for $119.59 against Rowland R. Hazard.

 Mr. Pierre Lorillard has recovered from the accident caused by the running away of his horse and the upsetting of his dog cart last Saturday afternoon.

 More "unpleasantness" is said to be brewing at the Yacht Club, which always seems to get up some kind of nautical disturbance at this season of the year.

That Mr. Hendricks should take no active part in the presidential canvass now being carried on by Mr. Tilden is very natural. Mr. Hendricks would scarcely be willing to surrender his chances for the presidency in 1880 for the privilege of presiding over the senate for the next two years. He accepted the second place on the ticket in 1876 under protest, and perhaps with the mistaken idea that Mr. Tilden would not survive until the close of his term should he be elected. Now, however, he finds his venerable associate on the ticket as lively as a cricket and determined to get into the White House either before or after March 4th, 1881. The sympathies of Mr. Hendricks do not go out towards Mr. Tilden. It is now stated in his behalf that when he consented to accept the second place on the ticket in 1876 it was upon an understanding with Mr. Tilden's friends that should have their support for the first place in 1880, and this contract was, it is claimed, ratified by Mr. Tilden himself at the time of the famous Saratoga conference. Under these circumstances Mr. Hendricks is unable to feel a very lively interest in the success of the fraud machine which is now being run with the purpose of putting Mr. Tilden in the White House at an early day or, failing in that, of making him the leading candidate for the democratic nomination in 1880. The Indiana statesman has been a standing candidate for the presidency since 1868 and now he realizes that unless he carries off the prize at the next national convention he will be permanently left out in the cold. His course since the decision of the electoral commission has been such as to commend him to the conservative element of his own party, and in marked contrast to that pursued by Mr. Tilden.

LOST HER HEAD.

Every one knows that, among all the rest of our schools for women, there are ample means now for a woman who seeks to become a physician to make herself familiar with all the principles of practice and all the secrets of medicine and surgery. A young student who had pursued her studies up to a certain point in another city came to Boston last winter and proceeded to visit a certain dissecting-room to which she had been invited. Mounting the stairs, she comes at last to the landing, from which opens the apartment where the wonders of the human frame are, materially at least, all found out. Waiting to catch her breath, perhaps to catch her courage, she overhears the following from the physician in attendance upon the class: "There are not enough heads to go round. Some of you must choose something else." The listener turned pale and leaned against the wall. She thought she wouldn't pay her visit that day. She thought she would go home and perhaps study a little further and approach the dissecting-room a little more gradually. As she turned to carry this resolution into effect, she met the janitor of the building, who was evidently familiar with visitors and students in this stage and state of mind, for he said, encouragingly, "If you wait a minute, miss, and take a drop of brandy you'll be all right. They all of 'em feels this way at the first start." But "miss" didn't wait that day.

The London Spectator says, "We notice the death of General Sir John Campbell, an Indian officer now almost forgotten, who once undertook and carried through a remarkable task. The wild people of the Khond district believed that the only way to make their crops grow was to capture a human victim, offer him up in sacrifice, and then sow bits of his body over fields with the seed corn. The superstition cost hundreds of lives a year, and so immovably rooted was it, that when the practice was interdicted the Khonds rebelled. It became necessary to watch the Khonds and rescue all prisoners retained for slaughter. The duty was intrusted to Major Campbell, and was so successfully performed that in ten years he rescued more than 1300 captives, and either stamped out the practice, or drove the murderers into the remotest hills. Major Campbell was at one time gravely attacked for his management of the Khonds, and there can be little doubt that their habit of murder and incessant breaches of faith developed in him a temper of great severity, but it may well be doubted whether tribes accustomed to sow whole districts with snippets of murdered captives could be tamed by gentle means. At all events, the victims who had to be saved could not wait till their captors were humanized by persuasion."

Round dancing has recently been condemned by a church council at Lynchburg, Va., presided over by Bishop Whittle, who, adopting the language and sentiment of the late Bishop Johns, instructed the convocation that "this scandal was not to be tolerated in the Church of Christ." He advocated affectionate appeal and earnest remonstrance to win back those "led astray" by this particular sin; but if those methods would not prevail then he was in favor of dealing more summarily with the offenders.

A German, on board a sinking ship, blew several hundred cubic feet of air into a life-preserver without any appreciable result. A fellow-passenger called his attention to the fact that there was a large rent at the other end of the bag. "Ish dot so?" said he. "Den I keeps mine vind in my pody." There was practical wisdom.

W. S. O'Brien, the "bonanza king," of California, died on the 2d inst. He was a bachelor, and leaves property valued at from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000. In case a few heirs are wanted, we are prepared to prove that our name was O'Brien before we were married.—[Mere. Herald.

At a game of fortune telling the other day at Sandringham, the Princess of Wales was told by the oracle that her fate would be to marry a widower with twelve children.

—Billy Martin was intoxicated again today. He invaded Mr. J. N. A. Griswold's place on Bellevue avenue, frightening some of the servants and afterwards dancing to the music of a fiddle on the street. He was arrested by Officer Dring and taken to the station house where he will be allowed to get sober.

—Editorially the New York Express in speaking of the recent authentic statement of the duel between Mr. Bennett and Mr. May, says that it was the act of a generous-hearted, noble man, and it shines all the more brightly now because Mr. Bennett has allowed silly tongues to wag unchecked, knowing that time would bring his vindication.

—The marriage engagement of Gov. Swann of Maryland, one of our principal cottagers, and Mrs. Thompson of Princeton, N. J., has been formally announced. The ceremony is to be performed at the home of the bride, in Princeton, N. J., and afterward there will be a grand wedding reception. Gov. BLUEFISH.—At the Vineyard on Saturday and Sunday quite good hauls were made, from the south shore, of bluefish. Some three hundred were caught on Saturday, and nearly as many more the day following. THE PERIODICALS.

ST. NICHOLAS for June is what it has been every month for some time past, the very best young folks' publication in the world. In view of all the facts this is not extravagant praise. All its articles are first class, its illustrations are good and it is well printed and gotten up in every respect. As this number tells the boys and girls how to make a telephone there will be a rush for it. It may be had at the usual places.

THE PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL contains a great amount of valuable matter adapted to the wants of every household. It treats of sanitary questions, such as, just now, attract so much attention in all our homes, and is eminently practical in all its departments. While we do not approve all its opinions on phrenology nor endorse the system itself we find very much beside to interest and please. S. R. Wells & Co. are the publishers.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK is an old and well known magazine. We are not presumed to be able to judge very accurately concerning its stories and fashion plates, but presume they are all right as the publication has so long proved itself so acceptable as to maintain a wide circulation throughout the country. It is neatly printed and presents an attractive appearance.

THE NURSERY comes as bright and cheerful as ever. No family with a child in it can afford to do without its pretty pictures and most entertaining stories. It may be found on the counters at the news rooms.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society connected with the First Methodist Episcopal Church in this city, held an interesting service last evening, which was largely attended. The President, Miss Elizabeth Sherman, presided and gave general direction to the exercises. Several other ladies, constituting the officers and board of managers, occupied the platform by the side of the presiding officer.

The meeting was opened with usual introductory exercises, when Mrs. Carlos Banning, one of the Vice Presidents, presented a paper giving an account of the origin and character of the Woman's Missionary Society of which this local organization is a branch. From Mrs. Banning's sketch we learn that the object in view is to carry the Gospel to the women of heathen lands, who are never allowed to hear it from the lips of a man. She quoted Rev. Dr. Thoburn who stated that he had preached seventeen years in India, in churches, in private houses and in the open air and had never yet seen a woman in the congregations. These were always excluded. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society undertook to meet this difficulty by sending women as teachers, physicians, Bible readers, etc., as these can have access to their sisters in all lands. The first society of this kind organized in the United States was in 1860. In 1868 a similar auxiliary was established in connection with the American Board. In 1869 the work was undertaken by the Methodist Episcopal Church, in 1870 by the Presbyterians and in 1871 by the Baptists. These four societies are now all working in harmony and with encouraging success. The society connected with the Methodist Episcopal Church has now thirty lady missionaries, five lady physicians, one dispensary, three hospitals, one orphanage, six buildings for home and boarding schools and one hundred and forty Bible readers and native teachers.

The Recording Secretary, Miss Ann E. Green, then presented her report, when Miss Ella V. Gilman read an appeal in behalf of the society's work in heathen lands.

Miss Fallis Palmer, Treasurer of the Newport Society, presented an exhibit of what had been done since the organization, covering a period of four years. The annual fee for membership is $1.00 and the gross receipts have been $135.25. The society supports at present a mission school in India, paying the salary of the native teacher and Bible reader and holding itself responsible for her support.

The corresponding secretary, Mrs. Wm. K. Covell, presented and read several letters from the mission fields, including one from Mrs. Rogers, the lady who is supported by this particular organization. These gave an interesting account of the work going on and were full of encouragement.

These reports and exhibits constituted the principal work of the evening. Their presentation was interspersed with singing, recitations, and dialogues on the part of several of the young ladies of the congregation, all of which passed off in a very pleasant and entertaining manner.

The names of persons desirous of becoming members were received in conclusion. It is the rule of the parent society extending to all the auxiliaries that no public collections be taken thus leaving the receipts to come altogether from membership fees and private donations. The treasurer called attention to several gifts of this kind that have been made by those not belonging to the society by which the ladies have been greatly aided in their work.

The meeting was entirely under control of the ladies, and the excellent and efficient manner in which it was conducted shows that they can manage a public assembly with tact and skill equal to that displayed by their husbands and brothers.

In Northern Vermont the season is wonderfully forward. Grass 82 inches high is being cut in some places, tulips and apple trees are in full bloom, and maples and elms are in all the glory of their verdurous summer suits.

Said the counsel, "What did he say when you demanded the soda fountain?" Witness, "He told me to go to the devil!" Counsel, "What did you do then?" Witness, "I went to my lawyer." Everybody laughed.

A songster as an aid to the evangelist is now outdone by Rev. Mr. Ferris of Brooklyn, who delivered "a chalk sermon," in which, as the notice ran, he was "assisted by Frank Beard, Esq., artist."

Mrs. Woodhull alleges that certain people in England have damaged her reputation to the amount of $150,000. That can't be the reputation she had when she went away from this country.

MARRIAGE BELLS.

A wedding took place this morning at the chapel of Saint John, the Evangelist, on the Point. The bridegroom was Captain E. O. Matthews, U. S. N., the first commander at the Torpedo station and the bride was Miss Hattie R. Hammond, daughter of Mr. B. W. Hammond of this city. The pretty chapel was crowded as might be supposed and many were unable to get in. Among those present were Captain Breese, many naval officers and their families and Postmaster Coggeshall. The invitation to the church read as follows:—

Mr. B. W. Hammond requests the pleasure of your company at the marriage of his daughter, Miss Hattie R. Hammond, to Commander E. O. Matthews, U. S. Navy, on Wednesday, May twenty second, at eleven o'clock, A. M., St. John's Chapel, Newport, R. I.

There were neither bridesmaids nor groomsmen. Commander Matthews escorted Miss Hammond, eldest sister of the bride to the altar, the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, following. She was attired in white trimmed with white ribbons and wore a long tulle veil. She wore no jewelry, but in her hair was noticed a bunch of Lilies of the Valley. Her father gave her away.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Child, after which the happy couple drove to the residence of the bride on Franklin street, where a few intimate friends assembled.

At one o'clock they proceeded to New York via Wickford and will enter upon the occupancy of a pleasant home which has been fitted up in the Brooklyn Navy Yard. The presents were unusually numerous and elegant.

Hjalmar Hjorth Bjoyesen is to marry Miss Keen of New York.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

MAY TERM—SECOND DAY.

The court came in at three o'clock.

The first petit jury was then called to the panel with Stephen Hammett, of Newport, as foreman, and the case of William Brownell against Daniel Austin was opened to them by Mr. Sheffield on behalf of the plaintiff, Mr. Peckham appearing for the defence.

This is an action of assumpsit for the recovery of an alleged balance of account due from defendant, of some one hundred and twenty-three dollars and interest. The balance due whatever it may be is accrued from a very long time account between the parties, commencing as far back as year 1852, and running to the year 1872, when the plaintiff sold out his business.

The defendant pleads the statute of limitations, which the plaintiff offsets by averring a new promise which they put in testimony to establish. The defendant also denies that, if there be anything due the plaintiff, there is more than thirty dollars, and avers that if there has been any new promise it was solely in reference to that amount.

The testimony and arguments in this case occupied the time of the court to the hour of six o'clock, when the court was adjourned to nine o'clock Wednesday morning.

The grand jury at five o'clock, not having completed their investigations took a recess to half past nine o'clock Wednesday morning.

THIRD DAY.

The court came in at nine o'clock this morning.

Judge Stinness immediately after the opening of the court, proceeded to charge the jury in the pending case of Brownell vs. Austin, closing at 9:30 when the jury retired with the case, and after two hours they returned into court and rendered a verdict for the plaintiff for the amount of his claim, one hundred and twenty three dollars and fifty six cents.

The grand jury renewed its session at 9.30 and 11.15 and reported that they had found no bills of indictment against anybody—the whole county being in a state of the most desirable and lamb-like repose and innocence; which is refreshing in these days of degeneracy, profligacy, embezzlement, and general moral, financial and political decadence of every kind and is no doubt to be directly traceable to the fact that the county is strongly Republican in politics and comparatively free from the rottening influence of the old Bourbon democracy which is now trying its best to bring general ruin, financially and morally, upon this great and glorious republic. The air is salubrious throughout the length and breadth of the county of Newport, and the breath of heaven, purified by its contact with old ocean, fans away all the impurities; and sweetened by good and pure republican principles, the immoral fungi, which are defacing other parts of our country, have here no congenial soil upon which to thrive, or object to which to adhere. It may have somewhere an old Bourbon element, especially in this portion of the county, but it is not the democratic Bourbon, although it assists this last greatly in keeping up its courage and forms a very essential element in its motive power. The grand jury was thanked by the court for the very satisfactory manner in which they had performed their arduous duties and were then dismissed for the term, and paid off and discharged.

The case of G. Auguste Thiebaut vs. Edmund F. S. Arnold was opened to the second jury, John W. Downing, Newport, foreman. This is an action to recover money alleged to be due from the defendant for board.

The defendant went with his family to board with the plaintiff on the fourth of November 1876, and were to pay 65 dollars a week and were to remain, as the plaintiff alleges, all winter to the first day of May. The week after they moved into the plaintiff's house, a child of the defendant was taken with scarlet fever, a case of which had already been in the house, and as soon as this child was well enough, on the first of December the defendant and his family left plaintiff's house, deeming the house to be dangerously tainted with the fever.

The plaintiff claims money due for an alleged loss sustained by the defendant's moving his family (in breach of contract as the plaintiff alleges—and to the amount of the profit that would have accrued to the plaintiff, had the defendant not removed his family.

Col. Honey for plaintiff; Messrs. Peckham and Baker for defendant.

Still pending as we go to press.

On the occasion of Barnum's last exhibition in New York, over three thousand persons were turned away from the doors on the last afternoon, while at night over five thousand experienced a similar disappointment.

MOTHS.

In May the clothes-moth begins to fly about our rooms. It is a small, light buff-colored "miller," dainty and beautiful on close inspection. Its highest mission seems to be to teach us to set our affections only upon incorruptible treasures which "moth and rust cannot destroy." But it is necessary to keep a sharp lookout for the safety of our furs and flannels, and we must wage war upon it. In the first place we must carefully put away everything we can, upon which it will lay eggs. If we pack away our furs and flannels early in May, before the moth has begun to lay its eggs, and leave them in boxes or bags so tight that the flying moth can not squeeze in, no further precaution is necessary. Clean paper bags are recommended for this purpose—those used for flour and meal bags. They should be without holes or openings anywhere.

These bags, when filled and closed firmly, may be put away on closet shelves or in loose boxes, without danger to the contents so far as moths are concerned, without need of camphor or other strong odors to drive the moth away. Furs are usually sold in boxes in which they may be kept. Beat them well when you finally put them away for the season. If you delay putting them away until June, examine the furs well and shake and beat them very thoroughly, in order that any moth eggs that may have been lain in them may be thoroughly removed or killed. Furs sealed up early in May need no camphor or tobacco or other preventive. Muff and tippet boxes should be tied up securely in bags, or made safe by mending holes and pasting a strip of paper around the junction of the cover with the box below, so as to close all openings. Woolen garments must not hang in closets through the summer, in parts of the country where moths abound. They should be packed away in tight trunks or boxes, or sealed up in bags. Woollen blankets must be well shaken and carefully put away, unless they are in daily use. Early in June the larvæ of the moth begin their ravages, and now, unless you who dwell in places where clothes-moths are not found, look sharp, you will find some precious thing that you have forgotten—some good coat unused for a few weeks, or the woollen cover of a neglected piano, already more or less riddled by the voracious moths. It is their nature to eat until they have grown strong enough to retire from the eating business, and go into the chrysalis condition.

Some things cannot well be packed away in tight boxes and bags, and among these it is well to scatter small lumps of camphor or clippings of Russia leather. Some use tobacco, though I think camphor is usually preferred.—]American Agriculturist for May.

A resident of Hanover, N. H. says a good word for the English sparrows. Instead of driving other birds away, they show such evidences of confidence in man, that native birds, finding that they approach the households without molestation, imitate their example. The writer says: "We have seen several English sparrows, blue birds, robins, ground birds and chipping sparrows feeding at the same time within a radius of a few feet and in the greatest harmony."

The following is the text of a recent firman of the Grand Seignior: "Learn," said the Sultan Mahmoud, "that the infidels translate and prize, in the language of the East, the books of their religion known under the Bible, Psalter and Gospel. Two or three hundred of each sort have arrived in my dominions, with four or five treatises in the Persian language. It is my duty to prevent such things. I wish that books of this kind should be sent back into Europe. If hereafter any of them come to my custom-house, let there be a strict account made out of them and sent to my capital. I prohibit all Turks, whoever they may be, to take any of these false books; when they meet with any of them, I ordain that they seize and throw them into the fire."

A South Kingstown boy went home the other night considerably intoxicated and afflicted with double vision. He sat for some time with his sleepy gaze riveted on Mrs. Pilgilder, and then quietly remarked: "Well (hic) I hope t'holler if you two gals don't look enuff alike to be (hic) twins!"

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, but enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

It can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifier, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy for it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact, every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE. Very respectfully,

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14. C. H. LAWRENCE

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made me familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14. JAS. P. DERBY.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.
